STEP 5. AGENCY CERTIFICATION AND DOCUMENTATION

Proper documentation must be attached to the application. Photocopies of the referenced documents must be attached – forms will not be returned. Documentation from agencies vary in form, but, in general, documentation should contain the following elements:

1. The Social Security Administration – you are disabled and receiving disability benefits.
2. The Department of Veterans Affairs – you have a 100% disability rating or permanent and total disability.
3. The Railroad Retirement Board (but only for Disability Retirements).
4. Other Agencies recognized by the Board, such as the United States Civil Service Commission, the State Merit System, etc. – you have a 100% disability rating or permanent and total disability.

Check the line below for the agency that certified you as totally and permanently disabled and from which you are receiving disability benefits.

1. ___ Social Security Administration

A. Submit a Notice of Award Letter OR,

B. Submit a Benefit Verification Letter (BVL)

a. The BVL must include the type of benefit. For example, the letter should state “monthly disability benefits.”

b. The BVL is available from SSA online, at the phone number below, and from a local SSA office but only upon requesting a BVL that includes the type of benefit.

• Social Security Online: Go to www.ssa.gov, and click on My Social Security. Either create an account, or sign into your account. Once in your account, you will see an option to print a BVL letter.

• Social Security Office: call 1-800-772-1213 for assistance.

(DO NOT SUBMIT: SSA 1099 Form, Notice of Decision-Fully Favorable letter, and Yearly Income Statements from Social Security – these are not acceptable documentation.)
